Shalom, Ehud! Ter-ko is claiming some unforeseen complications with Chymkent hospital. My gut feeling is it will not fly. I discussed with Dr Almaz Sharman the project he is involved in, construction of Almaty Academic Medical Center. He says that his main partner is the Mount Sinai hospital in New York, but if Elsmed will offer competative price for equipment to be supplied, his Kazakh partners will welcome Elsmed. Dr Sharman has "Terms of Reference", explaining what is envisioned in the project. Question is: should he email them to you or Ronen Bechor directly. Please, advise if you are interested and if so, what should be next step. Dr Sharman suggested that he would love to meet Bechor, if it is agreeble. I am so sorry for the inconvinience brought by this rather awkward situation around Chymkent hospital, but it might be better this way instead of after Bechor visits the site. The offer on the corn factory, according to Ter-ko remains in force. In a day or two I shal get a list of investment projects offered by the office of the Governor of Akmola province, the one around the capital Astana. Best regards

It was proposed to me by Mr. Tereschenko who was 23 years ago the first Prime Minister of Kazakhstan (under President Nazarbayev) and is now a respected businessman in Kazakhstan dealing with many areas of the economy.
The project is still in a design stage. It supposed to cover an area with about 3 million people and it is "relatively" close to neighboring Uzbekistan which might provide even more clients.
Originally it was supposed to be financed by a Government line of credit. But the entrepreneurs behind the project want to turn it into a Private-Public Project which will provide state of the art level of treatment to paying customers. (Beyond their regional commitment,I assume)

Their assessment is that it'll need around $25M, depends on quality and amount of modern equipment to be deployed.
They thought of Assuta as a partner, not just for the construction phase but for training and operation contract as well (many of them inc. Mr. Ter-ko were patients in Assuta and see in it a model of success).
I convinced them to turn to you. But I feel it takes a quick response to lock them into it and get for ElsMed the exclusive leadership role of foreign partner.
I think it is essential to meet the entrepreneur/s behind the project as well as the former PM and my representative there asap. Even next week if your schedule is not already overloaded.
I will send you in a separate email the contact info of my local partner/representative, Mr. Bolat Nurgaliev, a retired diplomat who was in the past,RoK ambassador to both the U.S. And Israel.
He speaks English and Russian (the former PM speaks only Russian) and Mr. Nurgaliev will coordinate the dates of meetings and will participate in them on my behalf.
Kazakhstan is not Switzerland and things can move less smoothly than our first impressions. But they're getting better and more effective from year to year.
Pl contact Mr. Nurgaliev after you get his info. He waits for it.
Keep me updated (cc'd on emails and in the picture otherwise).
Looking forward for hopefully a successful partnership.
Best
Ehud Barak
